AND QUILTS WORK*STARTS FOR GRAY GABLES

Tariff Prophets All at Sea—The Disposal of the House Bills Will Have an Effect on Whether He Signs the Recently Passed Tariff Measure or Not.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—The president accompanied by Dr. O'Reilly went to Gray Gables this morning. The president has malaria and high fever last night but is better this morning. The tariff prophets are all at sea. Until Mr. Cleveland makes known his intention it is almost useless to make predictions. A rumor is afloat, however, to the effect that the President is watching closely the action of the senate on the house bills, and that his signature to the tariff bill may be given or withheld according to the action of that body.

In answer to specific inquiries it may be worth while to announce that, according to the text of the tariff bill itself, it becomes operative Aug. 1, 1894. As a matter of fact, the date of Aug. 1 having passed, the tariff bill will go into effect as soon as the President has affixed his signature and it has been properly attested by the department of state, or if he fails to sign it within ten days after its delivery to him yesterday it becomes a law forthwith.

SUGAR IN THE SENATE.

Spirited Debate Follows the Introduction of the House Bills.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—After preliminary business in the senate yesterday Mr. Harris (dem., Tenn.) asked for the second reading of the house revenue bills. No one objecting, the bill to place coal, iron ore and barbed wire on the free list was read. Mr. Harris then had read a letter just received from Secretary Carlisle concerning the effect of the proposed bills upon the revenues of the government.

Mr. Berry (dem., Ark.) called up the free sugar bill. Mr. Harris, while favoring free sugar, thought this and the other bills should be referred to the finance committee. Mr. Harris said an early report would be made by the committee.

Mr. Vest said reference meant the death of the bills, as the committee was now practically a tie, with the prospect of the disappearance of a quorum within a few days. He ably defended the senate bill, claiming it an improvement over that passed by the house. He said that if the house bill had been enacted it would have caused a deficiency of $30,000,000.

Toward the close of his speech Mr. Vest accused the President of injustice in his letter to Congressman Wilson. He alluded in a bitter way to the differences which had arisen between Mr. Cleveland and himself, and concluded by declaring most earnestly that his position in reference to sugar had been taken without thought of personal benefit.

Senator Jones then offered an amendment to the sugar bill to levy a duty of 30 per cent on sugar, with no protection to the trust. The amendment was not in order, as the bill was not before the senate.

Senator Mills delivered the speech which he has been preparing for several days. He claimed the bill as passed did not reflect the sentiments of 1,000 people of the United States. "It was an issue between the senate bill and the McKinley law. We were between the devil and the deep sea, and rather than see the country go to the devil we went into the deep sea. It is better than the McKinley law." If the duty were taken off sugar, he declared, the treasury would still have more money under this bill than could be economically spent by the government. He maintained there was no necessity to secure one dollar of revenue from sugar.

Mr. Vilas (dem., Wis.) replied to some of the observations of Mr. Vest, taking issue with him. He said he considered sugar a legitimate object of revenue, but the people should be rid of the beast of the trust. However, rather than have the trust profit to the extent of untold millions he would be willing to sacrifice the revenue from sugar. If the senate voted to refer the bill, Mr. Vilas said, it voted to bury it. There should be no mistake about that when the vote was taken.

A motion was then made that the senate go into executive session, but it was defeated and the debate was resumed.

Mr. Palmer (dem., Ill.) made some general remarks on the tariff bill that had gone to the President. It had received, he said, the votes of all the democrats of the senate, except one, and it was a democratic measure. He was ready to defend the bill as a better bill than the McKinley law.

Mr. Kyle (pop.) asked if Mr. Palmer did not regard the bounty provision of the McKinley law as a contract binding on congress.

Mr. Palmer replied that he did not. After a humorous passage at arms between Mr. Harris and Mr. Chandler the senate adjourned.

General Black Calls for a Silver Bill.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—Considerable interest was excited in the house yesterday by the reading of a resolution by Mr. Black of Illinois, reciting the depletion of gold in the treasury and instructing the coinage committee to report a bill, privileged, for the proper "use and avay" of the silver in the treasury, and instructing the rules committee to report a rule for its prompt consideration. It went to the box in the regular order and was followed by a resolution from Mr. Talbert (dem., S. C.) for the free coinage of silver, which was referred to the same committee.

The report on the deficiency bill was agreed to with the reservation of the one item of the Southern Pacific claim. Mr. Maguire (dem., Cal.) delivered a vigorous speech in opposition to the payment of over $1,800,000 to this company. Mr. Henderson (rep., Iowa) defended the justice of the claim. The debate will be continued to-day.

The Ricks Investigation.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—Members of the congressional committee appointed to investigate the charges against Judge Ricks of Cleveland are anxious to begin their work next week. The members of the subcommittee are representatives Bailey (dem., Texas), Lane (dem., Ill.) and Broderick (rep., Kan.), all of whom are lawyers by profession and two of whom have sat on the bench.

SAYS WE NEED TAX ON SUGAR

Secretary Carlisle Fears Its Abolition Would Cause a Deficit.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—Secretary Carlisle's letter to Senator Harris is as follows:

DEAR SIR: Your letter advising me that the house of representatives has passed and sent to the senate bills putting sugar, coal, iron ore and barbed wire on the free list and requesting an official statement from you (me) as to the effect that the passage of these bills, or either of them, would have upon the revenues of the government, is received, and in response I have the honor to say that according to the most careful estimates that can be made on the proposed revenue legislation which has recently passed through congress the total receipts into the treasury during the current fiscal year will be as follows:

Estimated revenues for fiscal year ending June 30, 1895: From duties on imports—senate bill, including $43,000,000 on sugar, $179,000,000. From internal taxes—Whisky, $95,000,000; tobacco, $33,000,000; fermented liquors, $32,000,000; income tax, $15,000,000; oleomargarine, $1,800,000; playing cards, $1,000,000; miscellaneous, $200,000. Total internal taxes, $179,000,000. From sale of public lands and other miscellaneous sources, $30,000,000. Total estimated revenue, $378,000,000.

The total expenditures during the current fiscal year will be as follows: Civil and miscellaneous, including deficiency in postal revenue, $90,000,000; war, including rivers and harbors, $56,000,000; navy, including new vessels and armament, $33,000,000; Indians, $10,000,000; pensions, $143,500,000; interest, $30,500,000. Total expenditures, $363,000,000. Estimated surplus for year, $15,000,000.

The duty on sugar proposed in recent bill, will, according to importations of that article during the fiscal year 1893, yield an annual revenue of $43,718,598, and the duties on the other articles mentioned in your communication would yield under that bill about $1,000,000—that is to say, iron ore, $270,920; coal, $436,149, and barbed wire, fencing wire and wire rods of iron or steel, when imported for the manufacture of barbed wire fencing, about $300,000.

It will be seen, therefore, that if sugar alone is placed upon the free list the expenditures during the present fiscal year will exceed the receipts to the amount of $38,478,058, and if the duties are removed from all the articles specified in your letter the deficit will be $29,780,780, not including any expenditure on account of the sinking fund or the payment of $2,363,000 of the Pacific railroad bonds which will mature during this fiscal year.

In view of the existing and prospective requirements I am of the opinion that it would not be safe to place all the articles enumerated in your letter, or even sugar alone, upon the free list without imposing taxation upon other articles or subjects sufficient to raise an annual revenue of about $30,000,000. I have the honor to be very respectfully yours,

J. G. CARLISLE,
Secretary.

FUSE WITH POPULISTS.

McBride's Labor Union Convention So Decides at Columbus, Ohio.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Aug. 16.—The much-talked-of and widely-discussed labor convention, called by President John McBride of the United Mine Workers, with a view of taking independent political action and possibly forming a coalition with the populist party, got under way yesterday morning. One hundred and fifty delegates, representing organized labor in every part of the state, were present. Resolutions were adopted looking toward a fusion with the people's party that meets here to-day on condition, however, that the people's party agree to place in its platform the labor union declaration of political belief.

Tennessee Indorses Cleveland.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 16.—The democratic gubernatorial convention met yesterday, and, after adopting a platform, renominated Gov. Peter Turney by a unanimous vote. The resolutions declare for a restoration of the bimetallic standard as it was before 1873 and indorse the administration of President Cleveland.

PROBE THE STRIKE FOR UNCLE SAM*COMMISSIONERS BEGIN HEARING THE TESTIMONY.

Howard the First Witness—Vice President of the A. R. U. Tells His Side of the Story—Reason for the Boycott—Debs Sent For to Give His Side of the Case.

CHICAGO, Aug. 16.—President Cleveland's special commission to investigate the recent strikes and boycott against the Pullman and the railroad companies began its inquiry at 10 o'clock yesterday in the District court-room.

The preliminaries having been completed G. W. Howard, vice-president of the American Railway Union, was called as the first witness. His name had previously been called, but he was not then present. Mr. Howard, after being sworn, detailed the progress of the Pullman trouble. He said the Pullman employees had decided to strike prior to their organization into the American Railway Union. He explained the objects of the American Railway Union, and promised to bring the laws of the order to the commission. Mr. Howard said that he advised Pullman's employees to return to work, and that they did so because Mr. Pullman had promised that the request of the employees should be looked into at once. Mr. Wickes had promised Mr. Howard that the members of the committee which had waited on Pullman would not be discriminated against by the company, and yet three of them were dismissed. This incensed the other employees and they quit. Mr. Howard then told of the various efforts of the strikers' committee, the American Railway Union people, the civic federation and the city officials to induce Pullman to submit the dispute to arbitration, and how he had uniformly replied that he had nothing to arbitrate.

Mr. Howard next related how the American Railway Union convention had agreed to handle no more Pullman cases after a certain date unless Pullman would consent to arbitration.

Commissioner Kernan questioned Mr. Howard as to the policy and action of the American Railway Union, with regard to lawbreakers. Mr. Howard replied that any man known to have countenanced violence would be expelled. In the Great Northern strike the union protected the company's property. In Chicago the union employed detectives to learn who were responsible for the rioting. The trouble grew so rapidly here that the plans at first adopted could not be carried into effect.

"Does not the disreputable element take advantage of strikes to plunder and riot?" asked Commissioner Kernan.

"I have seen strikes where there was no trouble."

"But is that not generally true?"

"Well, yes."

"Then is not that an argument against strikes?"

"Yes."

At this point the commission rose.

At the afternoon session Mr. Howard explained to the commission his theory for preventing strikes.

At the request of the commissioners Mr. Howard telegraphed to President Debs at Terre Haute to come before the commission. Late in the afternoon session General Master Workman Sovereign was called.

Decision Against Speculators.

GUTHRIE, O. T., Aug. 16.—In the contested lot case of Thorne vs. Newcomb from this city the commissioner of the general land office has rendered a decision of great importance to all settlers on government town sites everywhere. It is to the effect that a settler must actually live upon lots or conduct active business thereon in order to acquire a title thereto and can not live elsewhere and hold government lots through an agent or by purchase of another settler's right. This decision will effect hundreds of cases in Oklahoma and give many thousands of dollars of valuable property to actual settlers instead of to speculators.

Woman and Her Babe Killed.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 16.—Mrs. Miller, wife of John Miller, foreman maltster of the Bay View brewery, and her 18-month-old daughter, were found in the Miller home last night with their heads beaten to a jelly. The house was also fired by the murderer. The weapon used was a hammer. The police arrested three men and believe that at least one of these men has guilty knowledge of the crime. The murderers had ransacked the house.

The best time previously made over the same course was 17 hours 5 minutes, and the record over the Springfield-Boston course was 17 hours 28 minutes.

MISSOURI REPUBLICANS.

Victory for Silver in the Convention Yesterday.

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo., Aug. 15.—The republican state convention met here yesterday. Nominations were as follows: For Supreme judge, W. M. Robinson; for superintendent of public instruction, J. R. Kirk; for railroad commissioner, Joseph Flory.

The report of the committee on resolutions ascribes the present depressed condition of the country to the democratic party, declares for protection to American industries, condemns President Cleveland's policy toward Hawaii, and declares for liberal pensions to the old soldiers. The silver plank is as follows: "We declare that the interests of all the people demand that every dollar, paper or coin, issued by the government shall be as good as any other dollar. We favor the largest possible coinage of silver that is consistent with the permanent maintenance of equal purchasing and debt-paying power of all dollars in circulation. We do not want monometallism of gold or silver and we pledge ourselves to continue to work for bimetallicism to be brought about by all means within the power of the government."

After a brief address by Chauncey I. Filley the convention adjourned sine die.

INDIANA DEMOCRATS.

Remarkably Quick Convention at Indianapolis Yesterday.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 16.—In four hours and seventeen minutes yesterday after Chairman Tom Taggart rapped for order and called Gov. Matthews to the chair the last man on the democratic ticket for the state of Indiana had been nominated and the 1,300 delegates were crowding out of Tomlinson hall. Gov. Matthews, on taking the gavel, made a long address commending the record of the democratic party in Indiana, which was enthusiastically received. The platform declares tariff protection of every kind a fraud and robbery of the great American people for the benefit of the few, and demands a tariff for revenue only. The actions of President Cleveland and the Indiana senators in the United States senate are indorsed. The platform congratulates congress that a substantial measure of reform has been effected and approves the action of the house of representatives in following the enactment of this law with the passage of separate acts placing sugar, iron ore and barbed wire on the free list. It especially indorses the income tax as a wise and equitable measure, designed to place a fair share of the burdens of the government upon the property of the country; also the law passed authorizing the taxation of greenbacks. It "favors the prompt enactment of a law by our next legislature, for the taxation of that class of money," and "most heartily indorses the repeal of the odious election law." It declares in favor of a constitutional amendment providing for the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people. It declares the policy and principles of the American Protective association illiberal, unwise, unpatriotic, undemocratic and un-American. The platform strongly declares in favor of every lawful effort to secure for those who earn their livelihood by their daily toil a better condition, and condemns the efforts that have been made to identify their cause with the infamous conspiracies of lawlessness and anarchy which threaten the very foundations of order and civilization.

It denounces every manifestation of violence and mob spirit, favors laws regulating emigration to exclude the pauper and vicious classes. It reaffirms belief that both gold and silver should be used as a money standard, and both should be coined without discrimination and without charge for mintage. Hails with delight the signs of restoration of the bimetallic system. Indorses the administration of Gov. Matthews, and closes with a demand that congress deal generously and even bountifully in the matter of pensions to soldiers. The convention quickly got down to nominations after a platform was adopted. Out of the ten nominations six were made by acclamation, as follows:

Judge of Supreme Court, First District—George F. Reinhart, Spencer. Judge of Supreme Court, Fourth District—Joseph S. Dailey, Bluffton. Secretary of State—William R. Myers, Anderson. Auditor of State—Joseph T. Fanning, Indianapolis. The rest of the nominations were: treasurer of state, Morgan Chandler; attorney-general, Francis M. Griffith; superintendent of public instruction, Charles Thomas; clerk of Supreme court, C. W. Wellman; state statistician, Alexander Fulton; state geologist, Eli T. Jordan.

NEARLY A RIOT.

Militia on Call to Quell Polish Church Uprising in Winona, Minn.

WINONA, Minn., Aug. 16.—The St. Stanislaus Polish Catholic church troubles broke out again last night in so near a general riot that the militia were kept in readiness to respond at a moment's notice. The police had arrested one of the Poles for alleged inciting to riot. Half an hour later 500 Poles appeared at the county jail, where he was confined, with the American flag flying and pockets full of cobblestones, and demanded his release. The matter was compromised by the release of the prisoner on $500 bail for his appearance in court this morning on a charge of inciting riot. Trouble is feared, as a number of arrests will follow, and another and more violent demonstration is certain.

ASSASSIN SANTO IS EXECUTED

Carnot's Murderer Dies on the Scaffold—Troops on the Lookout.

LYONS, France, Aug. 15.—Anarchist Santo, the assassin of President Carnot, was guillotined in the square in front of the prison here at 4:55 o'clock.

At 4:50 a. m. Santo was led out of his cell by the guards. He trembled as he emerged from the prison and had to be assisted to the scaffold. His face was deadly pale. As he was being fastened down he cried: "Vive l'anarchie!"

His death was instantaneous. There was no unusual demonstration. The crowd outside the lines at 3 o'clock was small, but from that time it quickly swelled until toward 4 o'clock, the time at which the execution was expected to take place, it had grown to large proportions. When the preparations of Diebler had been completed he twice tested the guillotine and pronounced it satisfactory; it was 4:25 o'clock. The troops then closed in around the guillotine.

In reply to a question whether he would have breakfast Santo declined either food or drink. He also refused religious consolation from the priest. Asked whether he desired to speak to the judge he replied in the negative. He also declined to see his counsel.

"Have you any last wishes to communicate?" he was asked.

"No," he answered. "Only send my letters to my mother."

At 1 o'clock in the morning the police commenced to clear the people away from the vicinity of the prison. When the troops marched to the square in which the execution took place hardly a score of onlookers were in it. At 3 a. m. from a window, not Santo's, a prolonged sigh, followed by the cry, twice repeated, of "Vive l'anarchie," broke the stillness. This was followed by a dead silence.

Just at that moment a wagon arrived from the prison with the guillotine. It did not arrive from Paris until 6 o'clock last evening.

Early in the evening a heavy fall of rain prevented the gathering of a great crowd around the prison, but all the wine shops and restaurants in the vicinity were crowded all the evening with people who proposed to witness the execution. At midnight, however, the people were compelled to leave their places of shelter, as the tavernkeepers had strict orders to close their doors at that hour. The streets leading to the prison were occupied by troops. At 1 o'clock all the houses on the streets were closed, and no person was allowed to enter them unless he could prove that it was his own place of residence. This precaution was intended to prevent any attempts at violence on the part of the anarchists.

COXEY NEARLY MOBBED.

Industrials at Camp Lost Liberty Encircled at Their Former Leader.

HYATTSVILLE, Md., Aug. 16.—Gen. Coxeys came near being mobbed at Camp Lost Liberty yesterday. He came for the purpose of taking away seven of his horses, and when questioned about the movement of his men became angry and said he was done with the scheme. This greatly incensed the five men left by the Baltimore police to take care of the camp property and Coxeys was obliged to beat a hasty retreat on one of the horses. The other horses were driven around a back road, and in this way he got possession of them. The men gave chase to Coxeys, but he escaped.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY
1717—Bloody battle of Belgrade; Prince Eugene defeated the Turks.
1733—Dr. Matthew Tindall, very free English writer on religion, died.
1777—Battle of Bennington, Vt.
1794—Merle d'Aubigne, historian of the reformation, was born near Geneva; died there 1872.
1817—Henry Winter Davis, statesman, born in Baltimore; died 1885.
1825—Charles Cotesworth Pinckney, American statesman, died in Charleston; born 1746.
1882—Senator Benjamin Harvey Hill died at Atlanta; born 1830. (He was a member of the Confederate senate and afterward of the United States senate.)

It begins to look as if the democratic senators were planning a bunko game on Arizona and New Mexico. It wouldn't take ten minutes to pass the bills admitting these territories to statehood, but the announcement has been made at Washington that they are not to be passed at this session of congress.

It begins to look as though Senator Camden's forgetfulness concerning that order for the purchase of sugar stock would cost him his seat in the senate, even if the democrats succeed in retaining control of the West Virginia legislature, which is by no means a certainty.

A news note says Secretary Carlisle has appointed a Delaware democrat chief engineer of the treasury department. Wonder if that means that Logan Carlisle is to stop running the machinery in accordance with his own sweet will?

The woman who, when arrested for beating Baltimore hotels, said she was engaged in gathering material for a lecture on the "Prisoners of Poverty" will probably get all the material needed.

Congressman Bryan of Nebraska, need not worry himself bald headed preparing his maiden senatorial speeches as the name of the successor to Senator Manderson will not be Bryan.

The sensible people of the country will endorse the decision of the Indianapolis authorities, that the making of populist speeches on Sunday is a desecration of the Sabbath.

The Louisiana sugar planters were a little late in sending a delegation to Washington. The trust had already bought everything in sight.

There is one thing to be said to the credit of the democratic senators—they stay bought.

"Money is tight," is the legend that appears on the sign in a New York clothier's window, explanatory of his low prices. He calls attention to the words by a device in dollar bills. Five of them are used, one for the body, two each for arms and legs. They are bent and twisted into the form of a grievously intoxicated person and pasted to a card. The head is a silver dollar, and it is crowned with a little felt hat.

The Surest Way.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

Notice is hereby given that at a regular meeting of the common council of the city of Janesville, to be held Aug. 27, 1894, at 8 o'clock p. m., said council will proceed to act in relation to the work mentioned in the foregoing specifications, the work to be completed by Oct. 1, 1894. Until the time of said meeting of the council, proposals for the performance of said work will be received by the city clerk. The council reserves the right to reject any and all bids. By order of the common council.
GEO. H. BATES, City Clerk.
Dated Janesville, Wis., Aug. 16, 1894.

SPECIFICATIONS.
Specifications for grading, curbing and paving that portion of West Milwaukee street, in the city of Janesville, Wisconsin, between the east line of High street and the west line of Academy street, except so much of said street as is occupied by and lies between the track of the Janesville Street Railway Company including a strip on either side of said track one foot in width and adjoining the rails of said track on the outside.

GRADING.
Said street shall be graded so as to bring its surface to a uniform depth of eleven inches below the established grade of the same; and in doing said grading the earth is to be scraped off to the required depth so as not to loosen the soil below. Also in all places in said street where trenching has been done for water, gas, sewer pipes or connections of any kind, such places shall be made firm and secure against unequal settling. If any settling is done in bringing said street to this grade, it must be done with sand or gravel, free from all perishable materials. After the surface has been shaped to conform to the pavement above, it shall be thoroughly rolled or tamped to make it secure against settling; which having been done a ballast of four (4) inches of clean sand or fine gravel shall be spread in such a manner that the sub grade of said street shall be uniform seven inches below the grade thereof, said ballast to be well rolled or tamped so as to make it firm. The cross section of each side of said street from the gutter to the street car track being shaped so as to form a segment of a circle whose radius shall be three hundred feet, and at the center of the street to correspond with the grade of said street; the gutters to be placed at such grade and depth not to exceed one foot as the city engineer shall direct, and shall be two and one-half (2½) inches deeper at a point one and one-half (1½) feet from the curb than at the curb.

The grading of said street and the ballasting thereof shall be done under the direction of and to the satisfaction of a special committee appointed by the mayor of said city.

All stone and block cross walks which shall be removed in grading said street and also all stone rubble and such gravel which is excavated in doing said grading and is not used in the ballast shall be deposited for the use and benefit of said city by the contractor in such place or places, not more than five blocks away from the above designated street, as the city engineer shall direct. The First and Fifth wards shall direct, without extra compensation, the work shall be carried on in such a manner so as to impede and obstruct travel on said street as little as possible and yet be consistent with the speedy and economical completion of said work.

CURBING.
Curbstone is to be of good durable material, of equal good quality, free from seams, cracks or other defects not less than three feet long, twenty-four inches wide and four inches thick. The tops of said curbstones to be dressed to a true line and their face to be dressed to a depth of ten inches from their tops; the ends to be dressed to a depth of fifteen inches, so as to form close joints with each other.

Said stones are to be firmly set on their edges to conform to their alignment and grade given by the city engineer, and are to securely rest on a bed of fine gravel at least four inches thick, well tamped and to be thoroughly packed with sand or fine gravel at least four inches in width at their backs. New curbstones shall be placed only in such places as the special committee shall direct.

STRINGERS.

The surface of said street, having been brought to conform to the sub grade of the same and having on its surface a ballast of at least four (4) inches of good clean sand or fine gravel, well and thoroughly tamped, there shall be laid at right angles across said sections of said street and at intervals of four feet apart, from center to center, and well seasoned durable white pine stringers, one inch thick, eight inches wide and not less than fifteen feet in length. Said stringers shall be free from rot, sap, wind shake or other defects; they shall be well and firmly imbedded in the sand or fine gravel forming the ballast so that they shall accurately conform to the sub-grade of said street. When said stringers are thus laid, the sand or fine gravel between them shall be carefully dressed with a straight edge, so as to insure that the top surface of the ballast between the stringers shall present a smooth, compact and uniform surface, conforming to the sub-grade of said street, preparatory to laying the flooring.

FLOORING.
Resting on the stringers and the ballasting between them shall be a flooring formed of good, sound green hemlock boards, one inch thick and from eight (8) to twelve inches wide, and sixteen feet long; they are to be laid lengthwise of the street, in close contact, their ends be sawed off square so as to form close joints.

PAVING.

Between the curbing and on either side of said street and the track of the Janesville Street Railway in the center of said street; and resting upon the flooring prepared as above specified, shall be a paving of cedar blocks, which shall form the road bed of said street. Said blocks shall have a uniform length of six inches, sawed from good, sound live cedar posts, of from four to ten inches in diameter, free from bark, rot or other defects. They are to be placed on ends upon the flooring in close contact with each other, and to be kept well driven up so as to form close joints and a firm road-bed. During the process of laying the paving, blocks of different diameters must be so arranged and placed with reference to each other, as to leave the smallest practical space between the blocks. Spaces approaching a square form must be avoided, and no spilt blocks of less than three inches in diameter will be allowed. All spaces between the blocks are to be filled with screened gravel of uniform size and screening satisfactory to the city engineer and a special committee appointed by the mayor of said city, the same to be thoroughly tamped with proper tools until solid, and refilled and retamped until the spaces are completely filled with firm and solidly tamped gravel. The whole work to be done under the supervision and to the satisfaction of the above mentioned committee. After the paving shall have been completed the top surface of the paving shall be swept off with a coarse broom, and left uncovered until it has been inspected and accepted by the special committee. After such inspection and acceptance, the paving shall be covered with fine screened gravel to a depth of one inch.

CROSS-WALKS.

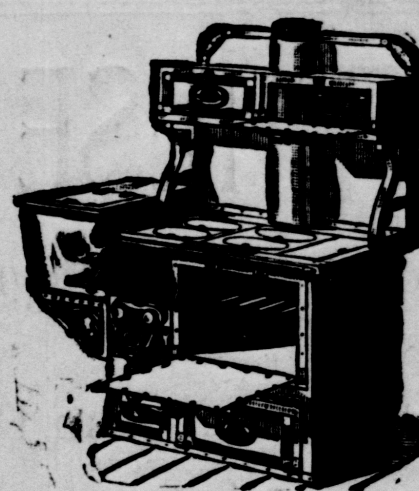

There are to be four cross-walks at the intersection of West Milwaukee and High Sts., and 4 at the intersection of West Milwaukee and Academy Sts. Said walks shall be made by raising the pavement in the usual manner; three inches rise in the center of the walk, the same to be twelve feet wide and so constructed that the crown will be even and of same grade as directed by said special committee.

The street upon its completion shall be left free from rubbish and impediments of all kinds. That portion of said street adjacent to and adjoining this improvement, and those portions of cross streets adjoining the same, shall be left in as good condition as they were just preceding the commencement of the work herein specified.

All connections of the pavement with sewerage, gas or water openings shall be substantially and properly made, and the street upon completion shall have a uniform smooth surface, conforming to the final grade and crown of said street, and it shall be left by the contractor in perfect order and condition. It is expressly understood that the contractor shall not be entitled to any allowance on account of injury to said street, by reason of rains or otherwise, during the progress of the work herein specified; or before the same has been completed and accepted as herein stated.

It is further expressly understood that the price per square yard named in the contract for paving said street, shall cover the whole cost of grading, furnishing, preparing and laying the stringers, flooring and paving blocks as herein specified and contemplated, and that the price per lineal foot, named in the contract for curbing, shall cover the whole cost thereof, including the taking up and removal of the old curbing, where required, and the furnishing, placing, setting and properly securing in position new curbing as herein specified. No extra allowance whatever will be made.

These specifications are hereby declared to be a part of the contract for grading, curbing and paving said street.
O. G. BLEEDORN,
City Engineer.

Happenings On Janesville Streets Since Morning Are Here Mirrored Accurately for Supper Table Review—Comings and Goings of People Well Known.

Mrs. A. W. BALDWIN will return to Evansville again to-night, where she has been caring for Lewis G. Baldwin, the aged father of her departed husband. Mr. Baldwin is well along in years, and his illness is of a dangerous kind. Mrs. Baldwin was almost exhausted from her siege of kindly ministrations, and had to come home for a day or two to get rest.

The Court Street church and Sunday school will serve an ice cream and cake social in their parlors, on Tuesday, August 21. The Sunday school children are to have free tickets; adults 15 cents, and a general invitation is given. A special rendering of music will be given by the Mandolin club for the occasion.

Prof. VERNELLO, the clever magician who has been exhibiting for the past two days in the front window of Wheelock's crockery store on the bridge, has left some of his Hindoo handkerchief tricks with full directions on each package at 25 cents each, or will be given away with a purchase of $1.00 or more if asked for.

The only real excursion this summer will be over the St. Paul railroad, August 24, to the Dells of Wisconsin. Everybody should go. Fare for round trip, including steamboat ride $2.50. No difference how many go, there will be ample room for all. Nobody crowded. No drunkenness, no rowdyism.

Now is the best time to go and see land in Clark county, for sale by the C. S. Graves Land Co. The present price will be the lowest for which it will ever be offered. Why rent a farm or pay a high price for it when you can buy of this company at only $7.50 per acre, easy terms.

The foundation of future patronage depends solely upon the fit and wear you get out of a suit bought from us. We cannot afford to offer a suit for sale that would not give perfect satisfaction in every respect. That's the reason we place so much stress upon our Pickwickers. T. J. Ziegler.

The second of the series of socials given by the W. E. C. will be held at the residence of E. H. Pelton 158 Glen street, on Saturday evening, August 18. There will be a programme and refreshments, and all are invited to come and help a worthy charity.

PROBABLY no more romantic or picturesque scene on earth can be found than the Dells of Wisconsin. Hundreds have never been there, now is your chance to go. An excursion via the St. Paul August 24, also an elegant steamboat ride. Everybody should go.

UNTIL the completion of a regular program the members of the Janesville Art League will meet at Mr. Burdick's studio at 2:30 p. m. Fridays and members are requested to come prepared for sketching out of doors.

A NEW baby boy has arrived at the pleasant home of Conductor and Mrs. W. A. Hayes, and there is great joy in consequence, in addition to a certainty that in a few years he will be a good railroad man like his father.

JANESVILLE was represented at the flag raising at the Nye school house in the town of Beloit yesterday. Speeches were made by Superintendent David Throne and F. P. Starr, and a picnic dinner was eaten.

OUR "ads." appear modest side by side with "would-be killer" announcements, but you may rely upon them being honest. Three one hundred dollar buggies $75 to clear out. Janesville Carriage Works.

CAPTAIN GRIFFITHS will give a moonlight excursion up the river to-night, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights of this week. The boat will go up ten miles and the fare will be ten cents for the round trip.

No gripping, no terrible sinking sensation after having bought a pair of those $1.50 shoes sold by Brown Bros. & Lincoln. A feeling of having saved a half dollar these times is indeed quite satisfactory.

CLEANLINESS as well as cussedness is now reflected from the municipal court, Head Janitor Kline having washed things up until Clerk Williams can see his own jolly smile on the polished floor.

OUR salesmen's time is yours at all times. Knock off for a little while and come and let us explain to you what an easy time you will have if you will deal with us. Janesville Carriage Works.

CONDUCTOR W. A. HAYES resumed his run on the Belvidere accommodation this morning, after a few days, lay off during which time Brakeman Cation ran the train.

THE Monterey Stars defeated a picked nine composed of three Athletics, five Holmes Hustlers, and one Janesville Stars. The score stood: Monterey Stars 12, Picked Nine 5. Captain Willie O'Donnell and Will Stead formed the battery for the Stars and Larson and Lempeke for the Picked Nine. In the last inning the score was 5 to 3 in favor of Picked Nine when the Monterey Stars succeeded in batting Larson out of the box and assisted by Short Stop Lutz's error won the game. The Stars would like a few more Athletics to play against next time. Three of them don't make enough amusement for them.

Those who wish to go to Devil's Lake next Wednesday without paying a cent can do it. Wednesday is the day of the Rectory society excursion and the Lowell Hardware Company offers to give a free round trip ticket to anybody who buys a Garland steel range between now and that time. A Garland steel range is the best investment that has been offered this month, anyway, and when a Devil's Lake ticket is added the inducement swells amazingly.

Mrs. C. F. GLASS and her sister, Miss Gertrude Salsman, left for Camp Douglas this morning where they will be the guests of Captain Glass' company, the Janesville Light Infantry.

The funeral of Charles W. Hodson will be held to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home. As stated elsewhere it will not be public, only the friends of the family attending.

Mrs. CAPTAIN J. H. WEMPLE and two eldest children, all of Norfolk, Va., are guests of Mrs. J. B. La Grange. They are accompanied by Mrs. Wemple's son-in-law, M. A. Irwin.

VISIT the Court Street church parlors and enjoy good music, cake and ice cream, August 21. All furnished to adults for 15 cents. Court Street Sunday school children free.

If prices on goods are low enough, they will go no matter how hard the times are. This fact is clearly demonstrated daily at T. P. Burns' closing out sale of summer goods.

OUR men's $1.50 shoes in congress and lace, tomorrow. We will close them out for $1.00 a pair. Come while the sizes are good! Lloyd & Son, 57 West Milwaukee street.

THE Trinity choir boys base ball team defeated a picked nine made up of the Whirlwinds, Newsboys and the Jackson Street Stars yesterday, the score being 13 to 7.

If we had an even hundred dollars to put in a buggy we would go to the Janesville Carriage Works and get one of those hundred dollar buggies for seventy-five dollars.

THE St. Paul road will take excellent care of their patrons August 24, to the Dells. Plenty of room; no one crowded; everything in good order. Join and be happy.

A TWENTY dollar gold piece will be given away at the City Bakery to the private family purchasing the largest number of bread tickets before Christmas. DeForest.

WE never load a cannon to kill a fly. Our utterances are heard all over the country. Special sale of buggies at the Janesville Carriage Works.

How Janesville Horses Did at Edgerton—Bower City Talent Figuring On Taking in the Big Event in Chicago Next Week—Coupon Much Admired.

H. D. McKinney won one race and got second in another at Milwaukee yesterday. His Director Chief colt Coupon, won the two-year-old purse in straight heats, while G. W. Howe got second in the three-year-old class.

L. F. Holloway's Nestwood was in the free for all race at Edgerton yesterday but was beaten by J. S. Hutson's pacer, Dan R. after winning the first two heats the best time being 2:28. Phallamiss was also in the race but did not get a place. Frank Sadler's Grove C. won the running race with William Persons' John C. second. The track was rough and slow.

Janesville horsemen are figuring on taking in the big racing event at Chicago next week. The Chicago papers say that among the entries for the two-year olds is "the great McKinney colt, Coupon." Coupon has won every race started in so far and he is certainly a "great colt." J. L. McCarthy, who acted as starting judge here last June, will officiate in that capacity. John Kelly's horses are all entered in the various events.

When Rowdy Joe, a pacer by Telegram was sent to the barn from the Janesville track last June for trying to score on a kangaroo jump J. B. Hawkins got disgusted and would have traded him for a farm animal.

The horse was "right" at Grand Rapids the other day though and pulled off three winning miles the best one being 2:11. A. W. Longley's William Tell who was also here won his race the same day at Grand Rapids going in 2:18 flat.

Queer Animal Puzzles Those Who See It at T. E. Ludden's.

EDITOR GAZETTE: The queer little animal at T. Ludden's saloon, pronounced "unknown" by those who have seen it, is the rough coated red Abyssinian cavy, better known by the name Guinea pig, though this is a misnomer.

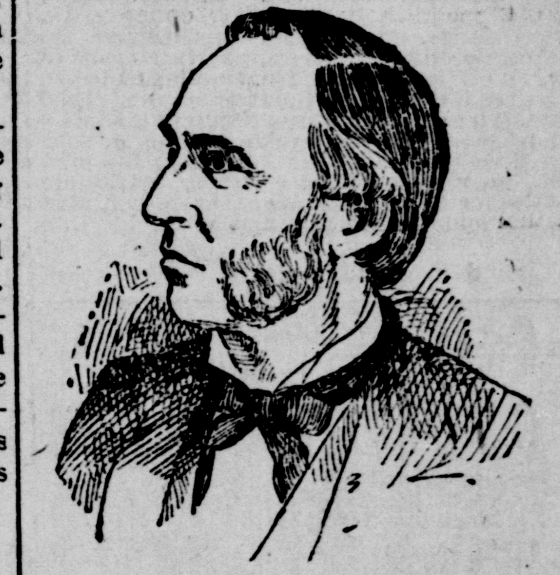

However, there are two varieties of this species, the rough-coated red and the smooth-coated red, with a white ring around the neck and sometimes with a white strip down the center of the head. The former is more rare and is somewhat larger in size. They are vegetable feeders and will even thrive on bread and milk.

It may seem to our neighboring contemporaries that we are woefully in need of a high school for the diffusion of natural history, but allow us to say that this little animal is a result of careless cross breeding, and a poor specimen at that, consequently it has puzzled all observers to classify it, and only an expert in breeding such domestic pets can well give it a proper classification. THE LATE AUSTIN BLAIR.

He Was War Governor of Michigan and a Political Reformer.

Austin Blair, war governor of Michigan, who died at Jackson a few days ago was of Scotch descent and was born in Caroline, Tompkins county, N. Y., Feb. 8, 1818. His early tuition in the common schools was supplemented by a preparation for college at the Cazenovia academy, whence he went to Hamilton, and in his junior year to Union college, graduating from the latter in 1839. The next two years were spent in his law studies in the office of Sweet & Davis, at Owego, N. Y. In June, 1841, he arrived in Jackson. In March, 1842, he removed to Eaton county and two years later back to Jackson, having in the meantime been elected clerk of Eaton county and served part of the term. In 1844 he seems to have acquired a state reputation as a political orator, contending for Henry Clay and the policies of the party which supported him.

Later in the same year he was elected governor, and re-elected in 1862, his two terms embracing all of the war period to January, 1865.

He found time to introduce many reforms and changes in the interest of economy in home matters of state administration. He came out of office thousands of dollars poorer than when he entered it. In 1866 he was elected a member of the national house of representatives, and was re-elected in 1869 and 1870. His position there was prominent, and would have seemed more so had it not been overshadowed by the distinction to which he was entitled as a "war governor."

AGAIN ARRESTED

THE ORFORDVILLE "TRAVELERS' HOME" IN TROUBLE.

For the Sixth or Seventh Time the Proprietor Is Charged With Selling Liquor at the Travelers Without First Securing the Necessary License to Do So.

For the sixth or seventh time since the first malt cask was pulled within the boundaries of the municipality of Orfordville, Mrs. Ellen Schaffer, proprietor of the "Travelers' Home," an inn or tavern of some celebrity, has come to Janesville in charge of an officer who was the bearer of a warrant that set up the allegation that liquor was dealt out to the guests of the Travelers' Home in return for a stipulated stipend. Officer Cochran was with her when she stepped off the train at the St. Paul depot this morning but he kindly kept himself in the background in order that Ellen should not be subject to the jeers and glances of people who would see them walking together and thereby know that Ellen was in the toils again.

Ellen's defense on a former case was that she did not own the beer,—excuse us please,—malt, but it was left at her place on the order of boarders who kept the stock and helped themselves, she simply accommodating them with storage room, so this may be the case this time. Ellen was taken before Judge Sale in probate court this afternoon. This was so that if she was held for trial it would result in the case coming before the circuit court or at least before a jury of twelve selected from the body of the county instead of a municipal court jury of six before whom convictions seem hard to get.

There were four cases against Ellen this time and when Assistant District Attorney Henry S. Sloan presented the charges to Judge Sale, Ellen was held to appear next Wednesday and Thursday, two cases being set for each day.

A MATRIMONIAL PACK.

We were married—she and I,
In the spring.
Said she, as we settled down
In our cottage in the town,
"Love, we now begin life's reign,
And of this our small domain
You are king."
And a happier man than I
Never was seen,
And the future seemed to be
Ever full of bliss for me
As I told my fairy wife,
"Of my fortune and my life
You are queen."
Then her mother in our home
Took her place,
And this life became to me
Full of woes and misery.
Though I dared not raise a fuss,
From the day she came to us
She was ace.

AN EDITOR'S STORY.

"It was in a western city some years ago," remarked the city editor, "that I was holding down the city desk on a daily for the first time. We had a man on the paper who was simply a crank on homicide, and he was more than a mere reporter, for he had detective talent of the highest order. He didn't care much for the common crimes—burglaries, larcenies and such—but give him a good, mysterious murder, and he was splendid. Not only did he have the history of all the famous murders at his fingers' ends, but he delighted in ferreting out the most mysterious crimes that came within our province. In every case, except the one I am telling about—in that town—he traced out the murderer before the detectives even dreamed of his identity.

"I have since thought the secret of his success was that he put himself mentally in the place of the murderer and reasoned it out from motives rather than from the 'clews' of the ordinary detective.

"There is seldom much method in murder," he once said to me when in a rarely communicative mood. "The men would commit it in about the same way under the same circumstances. It is only when a murderer goes about it systematically, as do the thugs of India, that a murder becomes truly mysterious."

"I once asked him why he did not become a regular detective.

"I was born and bred a newspaper man," he said, "and habit is too strong to break. That was literally true in his case. Otherwise I might not have told this story.

"One morning the body of a fine looking man was found in an alley adjoining the electric light works in the very heart of the city. The afternoon papers had a chance at it, but didn't make much out of it, so I at once assigned it to Jones, as we will call him. Although he did not show up at the usual hour, I had no doubt that he was already at work on it, as it was as mysterious a case as even he could desire.

"The victim was identified as a traveling man who had just arrived, and, as far as known, he had no friends or acquaintances in the city. It was not a case of robbery, for all his money and valuables were left on the body. There was a slight contusion on the back of the head and a small needlelike hole directly through the man's heart. It was especially strange that such a crime could have been committed in a public thoroughfare, while there was absolutely no clew to the murderer or his motive.

"But these difficulties were only such as would ordinarily put Jones on his mettle, so I did not doubt that he would have a good account of the affair. I was therefore somewhat surprised when he came sneaking in about 6 o'clock in the evening to see what his assignment was. He looked worn and haggard, but denied that he was ill, so I gave him the murder assignment. I thought I saw a startled look in his eyes, but he maintained his outward composure and went out without a word.

"I did not see him again that evening. About midnight I began to wonder why I had not heard from him, but only speculated on the possibility of something having happened to him, for the idea that he could possibly fail never occurred to me. Finally, after an hour had gone by, I telephoned to the police station. Word came back that there were no new developments in the case, and that Jones had not been there. Sending two men out to hunt him up, I set to work myself to make up a story of the murder from the afternoon papers. Just then Jones came in. His step was unsteady and his face flushed. He had evidently been drinking heavily—something I never knew him to do before—but he was not drunk, rather he seemed at high nervous tension, although outwardly as calm as ever.

"I decided to let this breach of discipline pass and merely asked him for his murder story. He replied that he hadn't written it.

"Well, got to work on it at once," I said rather sharply.

"Then he really surprised me by saying that he had nothing to write beyond the bare facts already known. The police had developed nothing new, and he supposed that I had worked up the story from the evening papers.

"And has it come to pass that you wait for the police to develop a murder case for you?" I exclaimed angrily. "As for the reports in the evening papers, you can fake a better story than they had!"

"He sat down, in apparent despair, at his desk. Then I relented and cautioned him a little, begging him not to spoil his great record by falling down on such an assignment. 'There's a starter for you,' said I, throwing him the article I had commenced. 'Now, go ahead and fill that out with a column description of the scene.'

"I haven't even visited it," he replied. Nevertheless he picked up the paper and read them as if impelled by some hateful fascination. Then he took up his pen to make a few minor corrections. Then, as if totally oblivious of my presence, he began to write.

"As sheet after sheet fell under his fingers I snatched them up, read them hurriedly and shot them down the 'copy tube' to the composing room. I read rapidly, as an editor will, taking but small account of the matter so long as it ran smoothly, while I had too much confidence in him to question the accuracy of his statements. I only realized that he was writing a great story, the greatest he had ever done. He seemed inspired with the very innermost thoughts of the murderer, and under his touch every trivial incident came out with distinctness and coherency that made the cause and method of the crime perfectly plain.

"First he described the scene with accuracy of detail that would have been impossible for one who had not studied it closely. The selection of the spot he explained by the fact that the bright electric light, streaming through the windows of the power house, made it impossible for the passerby to see into the shadows. Thus while impenetrable darkness screened the assassin ample light guided his blow, and, moreover, the rattle and roar of the machinery near by drowned all sound of the struggle or the falling body.

"The blow on the head, he demonstrated, must have been from a sand-bag, while the wound through the heart could only have been made by one of those long, fine bladed stilettos of Italian make. Furthermore, the fact that this peculiar weapon was driven home with a firm hand, after the victim had been stunned by a blow on the head, indicated premeditation and deliberate murder, while the theory of robbery was disproved by the fact that the man's valuables had been untouched. The only tenable theory, therefore, was that the motive of the murder was revenge.

"A more masterly analysis of a case I never read, but here he branched off into what I at first supposed to be purely imaginary speculations as to the wrong which had led the murderer to seek the life of the unknown man. These seemed purposely vague at first, but gathered in strength and certainty until I concluded that he must have some good foundation for them. Starting with hypotheses, he soon began to state them as facts. He described how the dead man, a once trusted friend, had entered the home of another; how, by subtle wiles and deceit, he had stolen the love of the wife. Then followed an elopement and the breaking up of that once happy home.

"He told, with the bitterness of truth, how the scoundrel had deserted the weak and erring woman and left her to perish alone; how the idea of revenge had filled the mind of the wronged husband; how, himself unseen, he had followed every movement of the intended victim for months and carefully plotted his destruction; how he had decoyed the doomed man to the city and to the very spot where the murder was committed, and how he had destroyed the only clew—a couple of letters in the pockets of the dead man—and finally made his own escape, the secret safe in his own heart alone.

"As I read this remarkable tale through the conviction forced itself upon me that this was the absolute truth. If the writer himself had committed the deed, he could not have described it more graphically. Suddenly the thought flashed over me—could he describe such a crime thus without having, in fact, committed it?

"We were alone in the room," I glanced at Jones apprehensively. He was writing rapidly—fiercely. His eyes were fixed, but he seemed to be looking through and beyond the paper across which his pen flew, at something fascinating—terrible. When he finished, it was with a start, as if waking from a trance. I glanced at the last page, where was final confirmation of my fears.

"My God, Jones, is this true?" I managed to say.

"Every word of it, as I live," he replied firmly, if faintly.

"Then you have written the warrant for your own arrest," I said.

"His head dropped on his desk, but he said not a word.

"Jones," said I, finally shaking him by the shoulder to arouse him to an understanding of my meaning, "enough to hang you is already in type. In an hour the papers will be on the street. In another hour the police will be after you. Go—make the most of your start!"

"It was as I predicted," said the city editor after a pause. "Before daylight a detective called on me to ascertain the source of that story. I simply pointed to Jones' name on the assignment book, and they went after him."

"Did they catch him?" asked the cub reporter eagerly.

"They found him in his room, with a stiletto through his heart," said the city editor.—Willard A. Holcomb in Argonaut.

Got His Money's Worth.

King Milan of Serbia once went to the hotel of a distinguished lady who was giving a bazaar for the benefit of the poor children of Paris. As soon as the king appeared upon the scene she advanced toward him with a splendid silver salver in her hand on which was beautifully emblazoned the family arms. On it lay a pretty little bunch of violets. "How much, madame?" asked the king. "Twenty-four louis, sire," was her soft response. Milan paid her the sum she had asked, with a courteous bow, took the salver from her hands, placed the bouquet in his buttonhole and walked off, with the tray under his arm.—San Francisco Argonaut.

MYSTERIES!

The Nervous System the Seat of Life and Mind. Recent Wonderful Discoveries.

No mystery has ever compared with that of human life. It has been the leading subject of professional research and study in all ages. But notwithstanding this fact it is not generally known that the seat of life is located in the upper part of the spinal cord, near the base of the brain and so sensitive that even the prick of a needle will cause instant death.

Recent discoveries have demonstrated that all the organs of the body are under the control of the nerve centers, located in or near the base of the brain, and that when these are deranged the organs which they supply with nerve fluid are also deranged. When it is remembered that a serious injury to the spinal cord will cause paralysis of the body below the injured point, because the nerve force is prevented by the injury from reaching the paralyzed portion, it will be understood how the derangement of the nerve centers will cause the derangement of the various organs which they supply with nerve force.

Two-thirds of chronic diseases are due to the imperfect action of the nerve centers at the base of the brain, not from a derangement primarily originating in the organ itself. The great mistake of physicians in treating these diseases is that they treat the organ rather than the nerve centers which are the cause of the trouble.

DR. FRANKLIN MILES, the celebrated specialist, has profoundly studied this subject for over 20 years, and has made many important discoveries in connection with it, chief among them being the facts contained in the above statement, and that the ordinary methods of treatment are wrong. All headaches, dizziness, dullness, confusion, pressure, blues, mania, melancholy, insanity, epilepsy, St. Vitus dance, etc., are nervous diseases no matter how caused. The worst of these is Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is due to the fact that it is based on the foregoing principle. DR. MILES' RESTORATIVE NERVINE is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by DR. WE HAVE MET THE ENEMY AND THEY ARE OURS.

In this year of our Lord, 1894, and while the heated season was at its height, we turned to look for something to please our numerous customers, and decided to begin on RANGES. For years our energies have been bent to give our thousands of patrons the very best that money could buy, hence we said to the people that

IN THE GARLAND THEY WOULD FIND PERFECTION.

The people believed us and in the long list of leading citizens who have purchased the famous "Garland" verifies it.

WHY SHOULD OUR COMPETITORS BE SAD?

They were warned in time of the mighty sweep the Garland would make and the tornado of indignation that would arise against inferior and unmerchandise goods. As business men among a highly educated, sensible, thorough going people, we mapped out the true course for business men to pursue, and the selling is easy. We stake our reputation on the "Garland" as the best range that ever left a manufacturer's hand.

When the winter shall come and Mother Earth shall take on that cold and barren look, and the verdure that is so pleasant to look upon shall have passed away and then with renewed energy we shall completely turn the tide so that we shall furnish the whole country for miles and miles around with the Gem of the Household--the famous GARLAND RANGE. We are certain that our competitors will lay all aside, and sooner or later a Garland Range will be found among their household effects furnished by the

A Disputed Case.

Many persons dispute the question as to whether or not baldness caused either by disease or neglect can be cured. In deciding the question allow us to say that most cases can be cured, while others can not. Only a specialist of years of experience can tell this. Professor Birkholz, the world-renowned German specialist of the Masonic Temple, Chicago, where those who desire a good head of hair or beard can consult him in private, and free of charge. After a thorough examination, which costs you nothing, we will tell you whether or not you may procure that trait of personal adornment so necessary to your existence, and if we find that the follicles are not all dead, we will treat you and guarantee the result. Call on or write to Professor Birkholz, 1011 Masonic Temple, Chicago, Ill.

Hand this notice to any first class druggist and he will get the remedy for you at once, if he has not got it in stock.

Oh, What a Surprise!

What an agreeable one, too, is experienced by the hitherto misguided individual who has been ceaselessly but vainly dosing for years past in the futile hope of curing constipation, when drastic pills and potions are abandoned for Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a faithful auxiliary of nature, which does its work without griping or weakening, but always effectually. "Throw physic to the dogs!" and use this benign and thorough laxative, which achieves results which astonish as well as those who use it. Not only a regular habit of body, but complete digestion and assimilation are restored by its use. It regulates the liver and kidneys and counteracts a tendency to rheumatism. In no case where it is possible to procure it should its use be delayed. Fortify with it against malaria.
